Cohasset resident Molly Crane, registered nurse, will be running with Team South Shore Health in the 2020 Boston Marathon and fundraising to support behavioral health services on the South Shore.

An endoscopy nurse at South Shore Hospital, this will be Crane's first time running with Team South Shore Health to support the South Shore Health Foundation.

"Throughout my nursing career I have experienced first-hand how addiction and mental health affects patients and families," said Crane. "It is my hope that fundraising for the Grayken Center for Treatment at South Shore Health will help end the stigma surrounding mental health and open a dialogue of kindness, patience and compassion for those seeking help and treatment."

This year, fifteen runners will be representing South Shore Health as they run the 2020 Boston Marathon.

- Runners will earmark their fundraising in support of one of the following programs or services:

supporting the implementation of behavioral health and substance use disorder services and initiatives within the Grayken Center for Treatment at South Shore Health; cancer care at the Dana-Farber/Brigham and Women's Cancer Center in clinical affiliation with South Shore Hospital; South Shore Health Foundation is proud to be an official Partner of John Hancock in the marathon nonprofit program.

This is the ninth year South Shore Health will field a Boston Marathon team. Last year's team raised a record-breaking $216,000, which pushed the team's eight-year fundraising total to more than $1.2 million.
